

HAINAN AIRLINES

A330 TYPE RATED CAPTAINS

Hainan Airlines has completely rewritten its contract and is now one of the best expatriate contracts available anywhere.

Pilots have the choice of 4 lifestyles which allow you to either live locally or commute to any online HNA destination, regardless of aircraft type and even choose to work month on/month.

A320 Captains with suitable experience may also apply for these A330 positions, with the transition training provided by Hainan.

The combination of high monthly remuneration, lifestyle choice, range of expat benefits and a renewable 4 year contract makes this one of the most sought after contract positions anywhere.

Furthermore, Hainan pays your Chinese income tax liability in China.

Hainan is introducing new destinations in Nth America and Europe, and commence operations to Australia and New Zealand at the end of 2015, allowing an easy commute to either country.

There are large orders for A330 and B787 on the books and will be arriving over the next 5 years when more destinations will be added.

Please contact any of our staff at Longreach China for more information on this or any other position available.

In addition, all Longreach China contract pilots receive:

- ✓ Worldwide emergency medical insurance for pilot
